

eGOV2007

Call for papers

This workshop calls for theoretical, empirical research, or case studies that will provide us with a deeper insight into eGovernment related issues. The best papers will be considered for inclusion in a special edition of the journal Transforming Government: People, Process and Policy. Possible topics include (but are not limited to):

Security and Privacy

- Security, Trust, Confidence, Privacy, Data Protection, eSignature, authentication, and biometric cards
- eDemocracy and eVoting
- eParticipation and eConsultation
- eGovernment Portal, one stop shop facility, and web accessibility
- Mobile technology and eGovernment
- Usability, eServices, eTransactions, multi-modal delivery channels, and personalisation
- eGovernment Systems

Social inclusion

- eGovernment evaluation and feedback mechanisms from users
- Digital Divide and e-Inclusion
- Innovation and eGovernment
- Organisational change, training, culture, and sustainability
- Technology, infrastructure, Interoperability and integration (e.g. back office integration)
- eGovernment business models

Information and Knowledge

- Information Knowledge Management and eGovernment
- Transparency, responsiveness, and accountability
- Cooperation and successful eGovernment
- Good Practice
- eLegislation and eGovernance
- Geographic Information Systems
- Core Technological capability, rigidity and eGovernment
- Knowledge-based society and eGovernment
- Knowledge Cities
- Outsourcing and eGovernment
- tGovernment (relates to digital television)

Important dates for authors

15 April 2007: Submission deadline

1 June 2007: Notification of authors

1 July 2007: Deadline for camera-ready papers

Please note that at least one author per accepted paper must have registered by 1 July 2007.

If authors do not register in time their paper will be removed from the programme and proceedings.

Other dates

1 June 2007: Online delegate registration opens

12 September 2007: Workshop date

Evening of 12 September 2007: Reception (with Netties 2007 delegates)

13-14 September 2007: Netties 2007 conference

For more information, please visit this website: <http://www.netties2007.org/egov>

Thank you very much.

Programme Committee
eGOV2007

<http://www.netties2007.org/egov/committee.aspx>